

I am a young businessman who travels frequently in the insurance business. I purchased XM Radio because I can listen to updates, (especially when it comes to traffic and weather. XM Radio provides a valuable service.

I recently purchased the service and now cannot live without it ! It seems that public radio has been scrutinized and limited by the FCC, now even services that I PURCHASE are being limited, which angers me to no extent.

Please think about what you do th the people who need, and pay for this valuable service.

Sincerely,

Steven Cagle
